Senior Year Calendar

August 2022

- B___ Create an account on the Common Application.
 - Your actual application begins when you create the account, so use capital letters where they should be and use proper punctuation
 - Gather the following materials before you begin to complete the application:
 - your Junior Biography
 - o your resume
 - o your proposed academic schedule for senior year.
 - Save frequently or you will lose what you've done.
 - Do not enter ACT and/or SAT scores until you have decided which ones you will send to the colleges and until you have decided whether to apply to Test Optional colleges.
 - Do not send the application until someone else has reviewed it.
- B Examine the transcript that will be mailed to your home.
 - You must approve the transcript or return it with any corrections that are necessary. You must also sign the release form that allows us to transmit your transcript to colleges.
- B___ Check the Common Application site to see whether any of your colleges require a supplement; some supplements will not be available until fall.
- B___ Check college websites for online or paper applications for non-Common Application schools; some will require online applications for which you have to create an account again, store these user names and passwords in your phone.
- P___ Register for and complete the CSS/Profile if you will be a financial aid applicant and are applying to private colleges.
- S____ Work on final drafts of essays now that you have seen the actual applications.
- S___ Prepare a written college application plan to bring to your counselor in September; include:
 - The list of colleges to which you are sure you're applying arrange them in categories of reach, target and likely.
 - We strongly advise that your list include at least one rolling admission or early action college and apply to it as soon as possible.
 - The list of other colleges still under consideration.
 - The list of colleges you have decided against.
 - The dates of any ACT and SAT you plan to take in the fall.
 - A list of questions you want to ask your counselor.
 - Copies of your essay drafts (include the question you are answering or the topic)

 S Early Decision applicants should complete the applications for colleges they will apply to in the event they are denied or deferred in December. The additional applications need not be sent, but they need to be done now rather than in December when you might have received disappointing news. S Try to get all your applications done by the end of the Thanksgiving weekend. S Continue to "demonstrate interest" to any colleges to which you are applying.
 December 2022 B Request transcripts to be sent to your remaining colleges – make sure to request 10 school days prior to the application deadline. S Been accepted by the college to which you applied Early Decision? Contact all other colleges either by email or phone to withdraw all other applications.
 February 2023 S Continue your college research and academic achievement. S Continue demonstrating interest; send any new information to colleges. S If any colleges who have accepted you request enrollment deposits before May 1 make sure the money is refundable. If it is not refundable the college is not following standard procedures. Consult your counselor about writing a letter requesting an extension to May 1. P The enrollment/matriculation deposit is different from a housing deposit, which is almost always refundable. Some large universities request a very early housing deposit and it is usually wise to pay for the reservation if there is any chance the student will attend that college.
 March/April 2023: Decision Time B Continue to research/visit any colleges to which you have been admitted; use this time to ask questions and attend "accepted students" programs. B Read all correspondence regarding deposits and housing reservations carefully.
 May 2023 B Secure your place at the college of your choice by making the required deposit by May 1, 2023. Submit only one deposit. S Tell your counselor which college you have decided to attend. B If you have been waitlisted by a college you prefer, you must still deposit at one of the colleges that accepted you by May 1, 2023. S If you are admitted to a preferred college after having been waitlisted and you plan to attend, you must notify the first college at which you deposited that you will not be attending. This courtesy allows room for a student who may be waiting to be admitted to that first college. S If you are accepted from a wait list and decide to attend that college, you must let your counselor and the Counseling Center Secretary know. If you fail to do notify us the second college will not receive your final transcript.
June 2023 S Check in with the Counseling Center Secretary to make sure your final transcript is scheduled to be sent to the correct college. We send only one final transcript unless you are admitted from a late wait list.
