Dear Parents,

The cast for the 2013 Lloyd Harbor Theatre Arts production of The Little Mermaid is has already begun rehearsals for performances on March 20-21.

The students are already so excited about participating in the show.

Our traditional musical productions are really family affairs, with students performing in the spotlight, backed up by staff and parent volunteers willing to get involved in scenery, set design, costuming, make-up, publicity, supervision, T-Shirt design and video sales.

There will be a general meeting for parents in the Little Theater on Friday, January 11, at 10:00 a.m. where I will present rehearsal guidelines, and you will have the opportunity to sign up for a committee needed to create a quality presentation of The Little Mermaid. We are counting on you to share in the benefits of the production with your child by volunteering to get involved behind the scenes. If you have questions, please contact Anne Eble, meble6@aol.com,

If you cannot attend the meeting, but would like to volunteer for a committee, please indicate your preference and return the attached form to the main office.

I look forward to meeting with you.

Sincerely,

Catherine Maloney
