

Media Arts Contract

Please review and have this signed by a parent and returned by the end of this week.

Welcome to Media Arts! Hello, student and parent!

In your quest to become a digital artist, or grow as a digital artist, equipment is needed. The list of the supplies we will be needing is attached. We are very fortunate- the school has made available equipment you will use in this course: computers, software, several video cameras, scanners, blue-screens and stands, etc.

These guidelines are designed for your benefit- they insure that your class time is spent learning new ways to create, and that the tools you need remain available to you and everyone else. Our classroom will be a creative, sharing and cooperative community!

Equipment guidelines:

1. During class, computers are for Media Arts class assignments only.

No games, surfing, checking e-mails, social sites, or outside work.
No YOU TUBE unless specifically directed by the teacher.
(Alternative written assignments are available for every lesson.)

No changing preferences, or desktop images. These are communal machines.

The above are meant to make sure your personal artistic time is not reduced or stalled by distractions or interruptions.

2. Any portable equipment must be checked out with the teacher, and returned promptly on the expected date.

Video cameras and other equipment that you check out are your responsibility.

The student must promptly replace borrowed equipment that is lost or broken while in their possession or use. This insures that your fellow classmates are also able to do their assignments, and the class can move forward. Our supplies are limited. (Please see the back of this sheet for prices of the items that will be available.)

3. Flash drives, camera cards, and any other personal equipment you bring to class must leave the classroom with you everyday.

*Please do not assume anything left behind will be found.
(Exception: headphones. I will store those.)*

These guidelines insure your ability to get work done, and focus on the fun part- learning new ways to create fantastic digital art! Thank you for your cooperation.
